

Manufacturing Specialist
Cable Prep, Soldering, Finishing

MegaPhase is an innovative manufacturer of coaxial cable assemblies and passive components for RF/Microwave applications supporting the biggest and best companies in Military, telecom, space, and semiconductors. Located Stroudsburg, PA, the company offers its team a creative and successful working environment, excellent pay, and competitive benefits.

We are seeking a highly motivated, Manufacturing Specialist to perform a variety of duties required in the manufacture of RF Cable assemblies. MegaPhase products include coaxial cable, cable assemblies, and connectors. This position reports to the Production Manager.

Duties and Responsibilities

- Operate various manufacturing equipment and ability to use a variety of hand tools
- Demonstrates technical knowledge to operate soldering equipment
- Maintains production schedule to insure timely work flow to appropriate work centers
- Adheres to and follows quality policies and procedures
- Suggests manufacturing process improvements
- Ensure product meets mechanical and electrical requirements of company and customer
- Complete equipment setup procedures in accordance with company specifications and quality procedures
- Notify management of product discrepancies and equipment malfunctions
- Perform reworks as directed by QA lab

Skills

- Review prints and inspect assemblies and components
- Create soldered connections to applicable quality standards
- Ability to obtain correct materials, measure materials and cut to indicated lengths to work order specifications
- Ability to apply final connections and complete labeling process to work order, and clean finished piece to meet quality standards.
- Strong attention to detail
- Self-motivated, able to cross train in various production operations, and work in a team-based environment
- Ability to follow written and verbal instruction to established standards
- Certification to J-STD-001 soldering and inspection a plus
- Understanding of ISO 9001-2015 environment

Education:

- High School Diploma/ A.A.S diploma or equivalent preferred
- Assembly Experience IPC 620 preferred – will train the right person
- Certification to J-STD-001 soldering and inspection a plus

MegaPhase is an equal opportunity employer

PLEASE SUBMIT YOUR RESUME in Microsoft Word format and email to TeamWork@MegaPhase.com